~~to identify results that do not fit pattern~~

Dear Diary,

Today I was swimming at the bottom of a yogurt. After doing this, I was drilled up to the classroom with giants, one of which ^{was} standing at the front of the ~~our~~ classroom. A few moments later, a giant had gone or... stomped to the sink. Climbing on it, I was looking for its teeth... however... I SAW ~~of~~ A BRRREAR! As quick as lightning, I jumped on the creature's shoulder and sprinted ~~to~~ towards it. In fact, there were five goals to choose from. ~~Today~~ However instead of eating it I went away. ~~Max~~ Having seen previously what damage it can cause to me and spreading micro-organisms. Today I feel ~~small~~ ^{small and na} great.

Dear Diary,

Today was the most remarkable day ever! I had just gone to the staff room going on the tooth of Mrs Sharma. After that the diabolical scheme succeeded I went to the classroom of six Peers. All my mates were here. After examining my targets, I climbed to the nearest chair. I jumped in through her teeth, nibbling on the way, and destroyed her immune system. Yes! She sneezed and I came dashing out, punching one of them, making them cough. ~~Swill~~ Today was the best day.
