Writing – Science Fiction

This week we would like you to create and write a paragraph each for three characters that will be in your science fiction story that you will write in a few weeks. We are focusing on characters first, then move onto the setting and finally write the story!

Science fictions stories often involve space travel, aliens, robots and spaceships. They could be set in the future or even on an alien planet! Remember all this information when creating your three characters.

Task:

- Create three characters appropriate for your science fiction story. Remember to include; name, build, positive qualities, negative qualities, hopes, fears, way of moving and way of talking.
- Write three paragraphs explaining the key characteristics of your characters.
- Use the character description below to support you.

To be completed in exercise book.

Benzite

Turning my head towards the thrumming noise, to my horror, a monstrous creature appeared. It had the appearance of a tarantula, but of gigantic proportions. Inky black eyes stared out from its vast velvety body which topped long legs covered in coarse hairs like the bristles of a brush.

Upon seeing me, the thing rose unsteadily until it was standing upright – like a human. Its face was grotesque: circular discs occupied the space where eyes should have been and the nose seemed elongated like an elephant's trunk. The body was thin and clad in ragged robes...
